MRH WEEKEND REVIEW

STORM LEOPARD - 1ST - ROSEHILL GROUP 2 2000M

Storm Leopard was utterly dominant on Saturday in the Tulloch Stakes, winning eased down by 1.81 lengths in his stakes grade debut. He relished the rise to 2000m, and gave the indication that he will get even further.

After discussions with the ownership group, the team will look to back him up in the Group 1 Australian Derby, where he currently the 3rd favourite.

CHARCOALS - 6TH - ROSEHILL BM88 1400M

Charcoals was very good in defeat again on Saturday, with a strong finishing 6th after drawing the widest gate and having to go back to last in transit.

He looked to relish the rise to 1400m, and jockey Tommy Berry is confident that he will be very hard to beat once he draws a good barrier.

HIGH TEMPO - 1ST - SALE BM62 1717M

High Tempo put in a tough performance on Sunday at Sale, winning a photo against Corona Lad. She has continued her winning form after a perfect steer from jockey Luke Cartwright.

She is racing in career best form, and gives us the indication that she will continue to excel over further aswell.

NEWY - 1ST - NEWCASTLE MAIDEN 1150M

Newy was finally able to break his maiden in front of his home town at Newcastle on Monday, saluting over the 1150m. He beat a horse named Tuscany, who had some form around King Kirk back in the 2024 Breeders Plate.

We look forward to seeing Newy go through the grades this time in.
