MRH WEEKEND REVIEW

STORM LEOPARD - 3RD - RANDWICK GROUP 1 2400M

Storm Leopard was very brave in defeat on Saturday in his Group 1 debut at Randwick. He was beaten by the better horse on the day in Green Spaces, but still ran a bold race to hang on for 3rd.

He will have an easy week this week, before the stable decide if they press on to the Group 1 South Australian Derby on May 2nd.

OUR SASSY LADY - 1ST - WARRACKNABEAL 0-56 1600M

This is an incredible story of reinvigoration. Congratulations to James and Jess Tzaferis, who notched up their first victory for the MyRacehorse clan with Our Sassy Lady. She put in an honest on speed performance, and was the toughest on the line, holding off her key rivals.

BOLD STRIKE - 1ST - BALLARAT BM66 2000M

It was great to see Bold Strike return to form on Good Friday at Ballarat, securing the win in a narrow photo finish with two other horses. This was his first time out to 2000m, and he relished that opportunity.

There are a number of options for him going forward over 2000m, and owners are hoping that this win has given Bold Strike some added confidence.

TRANSCEND - 6TH - RANDWICK GROUP 3 2000M

Transcend stepped up to 2000m for the first time to tackle the Adrian Knox, and didn't disgrace herself. The 2000m was the culmination of quite a long preparation for her, and she gave the indication that she has probably had enough this preparation.
