MRH WEEKEND REVIEW

ENGINE OF WAR - 14TH - MORPHETTVILLE GROUP 1 2518M

It wasn't to be for Engine Of War on Saturday in the South Australian Derby. Unfortunately, due to the rain on raceday, the track became very difficult for a horse like Engine Of War, and he didn't handle it. The stable have indicated that he has pulled up fine, and they will assess a race option for him.

OUR SASSY LADY - 5TH - MORPHETTVILLE BM70 1800M

Our Sassy Lady produced arguably a career-best performance on Saturday, finishing 5th in a $100,000 race, and was unlucky not to finish closer due to being tightened for room at a key stage. She showed incredible fight on Saturday, and another win feels close with her.

INCANDESCENT - 2ND - TE RAPA LISTED 1400M

Incandescent was super on Saturday, being defeated by Excite, who was last seen running 4th in the Group 1 Sires Produce. He was tight for room for a period in the straight, but still hit the line strongly to finish 2nd. He is knocking on the door for another win in a similar grade.

CHARCOALS - 6TH - EAGLE FARM BM85 1400M

Charcoals ran on well at Eagle Farm. He was ridden quite negatively from the beginning, making it almost impossible to make ground on the horses fighting out the finish. He will likely be kept to 1200m at his next start, and hopefully ridden more positively.

CENTENARIO - 9TH - HAWKESBURY BM78 1800M

Centenario just lacked a turn of foot to go with his opposition on Saturday. Jockey Regan Bayliss expressed that he thought the horse ran well, and will appreciate getting back out to 2000m+, where he excelled at his last preparation.
