MRH WEEKEND REVIEW

HIGH TEMPO - 2ND - BALLARAT BM66 2036M

High Tempo produced another super performance at Ballarat on Friday. She was 3-wide-no-cover for most of the race, yet looked the winner with 400m to go in the event. Unfortunately, the eventual winner Amletto had a very kind run in transit, and just proved too strong late. High Tempo continues to race in career-best form and deserved another win this preparation.

MAWJOOD - 2ND - ROSEHILL BM78 1500M

Mawjood produced another brave on-speed performance on Saturday, going down narrowly to Emirate in the dying stages of the race. He overcame the wide gate to settle in the lead and looked the winner until the final 100m, where he looked to just run out of puff.

CHICAGO KING - 3RD - WARWICK BM60 1500M

Chicago King ran okay at Warwick on Saturday. Given the class, it was expected that he would be very hard to beat on Saturday, but the track conditions proved to be a disadvantage for this son of Street Boss. He still ran honestly to hold onto a minor placing.
